Sanski Most is located only 92 km away from E-71 highway, the main corridor between Western Europe, the Mediterranean and the Middle East. The cornerstone of its development lies in plentiful natural resources: forests, water and land. The climate conditions create a favorable environment for livestock, crops, vegetable and fruit production and beekeeping. Sanski Most is also widely known for its developed civil engineering, metalworking and woodworking industry. Sana River and its tributaries provide significant water resources suitable for the construction of mini hydro power plants, which could serve as one of the main pillars of local development. Thermal and mineral waters, caves and waterfalls provide excellent conditions for tourism development. The industrial zone Šejkovača near the city center offers commercial land and infrastructure at extremely low prices. Aiming to encourage investments and employment, the municipality allocates a significant amount of funds for the development and reconstruction of the industrial zone. The support provided by the Economic Council of Sanski Most and a set of local incentives stand as strong indicators of successful cooperation between the private and public sectors, whose joint ideas and projects are aimed at making Sanski Most a developed community.
